To the School Administrator

Dear Sir/Madam,

We are pleased to invite you, your school administrators, mentors, student affairs/services personnel, guidance counselors, teachers, and parent leaders to the 1st International Mentoring Conference: (IMeC): Promoting Mentoring Culture (IMeC) on July 19-21, 2018 at the University of Asia and the Pacific, Pasig City, Philippines.

We have invited internationally known mentoring experts and authors, Dr. W. Brad Johnson, Ann Rolfe and Dr. Jean Rhodes, who will bring us new insights on how to create, promote, and sustain a mentoring culture based on their own practice and research work. To further enrich the discussions, there will be presentations on various successful mentoring initiatives by Dr. Severina M. Villegas and Dr. Gabby Dy-Liacco. Research paper presentations on mentoring practices and programs in academic, business, and community settings will be held on the succeeding days.

The IMeC offers so many opportunities to build your network and deepen your understanding on the impact and benefits of the mentoring experience.

To pre-register, kindly send us back the attached reply form on or before May 31, 2018 (Monday). Conference fee is 8,500 PHP for local participants and 250 USD for international participants which covers conference materials, certificate, snacks, and lunch.

Attached are the details of the international conference. Should you have further queries, please contact the IMeC Secretariat, Ms. Karla Pelayo-Lozano at (02) 6370912 local 344 (imec2018@uap.asia) or Ms. Mich Alejandro at (02) 6370912 local 365 (michelle.alejandro@uap.asia).

We look forward to your positive response. Thank you.

Yours truly,

Resurreccion

ABOUT THE CONFERENCE SPEAKERS

DR. W. BRAD JOHNSON is a Professor of psychology in the Department of Leadership, Ethics and Law at the United States Naval Academy, and a Faculty Associate in the Graduate School of Education at Johns Hopkins University. A clinical psychologist and former Lieutenant Commander in the Navy's Medical Service Corps, Dr. Johnson served as a psychologist at Bethesda Naval Hospital and the Medical Clinic at Pearl Harbor where he was the division head for psychology. He is a fellow of the American Psychological Association and recipient of the Johns Hopkins University Teaching Excellence Award. Dr. Johnson is the author of numerous publications including 13 books, in the areas of mentoring, professional ethics, and counseling. His most recent books include: Athena Rising: How and Why Men Should Mentor Women (2016, with David Smith), On Being a Mentor (2015), and The Elements of Mentoring (2008, with Charles Ridley).

MS. ANN ROLFE is the Founder of Mentoring Works. She is Australia's most published author on mentoring, and has thirty years experience in learning and development and a background in career counselling. For two decades, she has specialised in mentoring, setting up programs and training people in fields as diverse as health, construction, energy, communications, education, law and government. Her programs have won awards for innovation and excellence. Internationally respected as a trainer, consultant and presenter, Ann has spoken international conferences in Australia, Canada, China, Philippines, Singapore and USA. She runs regular webinars that attract participants from around the world and she served on the board of the International Mentoring Association.

DR. JEAN RHODES is a leading expert on youth mentoring research, and the depth, breadth, and rigor of her academic accomplishments have made important contributions to policies affecting children and youth. Rhodes is the Frank L. Boyden Professor of Psychology and the director of the Center for Evidence-based Mentoring at UMass Boston. Rhodes has published her findings in outlets ranging from scholarly journals to OpEds in The New York Times and The Boston Globe. Her trade book, Stand by Me: The Risks and Rewards of Mentoring Today's Youth (Harvard University Press), served to galvanize an emerging field. Rhodes launched longitudinal research on natural mentoring relationships with urban adolescents, deepening our understanding of the changing nature of relationships and their positive influence on an array of outcomes.

Promoting Mentoring Culture

DR. SEVERINA M. VILLEGAS specializes in character, moral & values education, and mentoring. She pioneered in establishing several educational Institutions, such as the Schools for Women in Home Management – Punlaan, which spawned other schools in Metro Manila, Laguna, Cebu, and Iloilo. Another is the Center for Research and Communication (College of Arts and Sciences), which paved the way to the University of Asia and the Pacific (UA&P), as well as the School of Education (MA in Values Education). Aside from this, she does consultancy work in PAREF, UA&P, DepED and other sectors here and abroad, particularly in Macao and Singapore. Dr. Villegas has also delivered papers on Education and Human Development in several countries, which includes Scotland, Spain, Hongkong, Macau, Taiwan, Beijing, etc.

DR. GABRIEL DY-LIACCO holds a Ph.D. in Pastoral Counseling from Loyola University Maryland. Pastoral counseling is a unique discipline that blends professional counseling and psychotherapy with a carefully integrated spiritual dimension. His clinical work is in the treatment of individuals, couples, families and groups for a wide range of issues. These include adult and childhood abuse and trauma, psychiatric diagnoses, personality disorders, addiction, and non-psychiatric problems in living. He is a licensed professional counselor and has practiced psychotherapy and counseling in various mental health settings since 1997. Dr. Dy-Liacco is an Associate Professor in the School of Psychology and Counseling of Regent University in Virginia, USA. He has also taught in the Department of Pastoral Counseling of Loyola University Maryland. He is an associate editor of the journal, Psychology of Religion and Spirituality, of the American Psychological Association. His own research focuses on the relationships among faith, spiritual experience, spiritual struggles, and psychological flourishing. In the Philippines, he maintains a private clinical practice, provides organizational consulting for educational institutions, and conducts workshops for religious formators. In December 17, 2014, Pope Francis appointed Dr. Dy-Liacco to the Pontifical Commission for the Protection of Minors as the representative for the Asian Region.
