Greetings of Peace!

The National Association of UNESCO Clubs in the Philippines would like to formally invite you to attend the International Assembly of Youth and Educators for UNESCO (Y4U). Attached below is your formal invitation letter, registration guidelines and the necessary information for the assembly on September 6-8, 2018 at ICON Hotel-Timog, Quezon City, Philippines. You may also visit the conference website at www.unescoclubsph.org. We hope to see you soon!

In this connection, we are honored to invite you and your division to be part of this event. We also request if you can issue a Division Memorandum encouraging the participation of teachers and high school students both from public and private schools to participate. Please see attached DEPED Advisory on this conference provided to us by the central office in Pasig City. Please email the Division Memo at naucp@unescoclubsph.org so that we can invite the school principals, educators and students under your jurisdiction.

Thank you.

Sincerely Yours,

Dr. Serafin Arviola Jr.

MESSAGE

My warmest greetings to the National Association of UNESCO Clubs in the Philippines (NAUCP), Inc. as it holds the International Assembly of Youth for UNESCO (Y4U), in cooperation with the Philippine National Commission of UNESCO.

Society's progress largely depends on how people appreciate, protect and nurture their history, culture and identity. I therefore commend NAUCP for establishing a platform for our youth to participate in protecting our national heritage and fostering creativity through collaborative pursuits.

May this gathering encourage our future leaders to reaffirm their commitment to make more meaningful and tangible changes in our communities. I trust that they will join us in the challenging but rewarding task of nation-building through volunteerism and partnerships with the academe, civil society and other stakeholders. Together, let us make education, science and culture the foundations upon which we will build a more peaceful and just society in the future.

I wish you a fruitful assembly.

MESSAGE

Greetings of peace and solidarity to the National Association of UNESCO Clubs in the Philippines as you come together for this year's International Assembly of Youth for UNESCO.

Our country has taken great strides in encouraging our youth to take part in nation-building. This activity is truly a remarkable exercise for the future leaders of this country, as it encourages learning and promotes an appreciation of our history and heritage among our youth.

We, in government, are one with UNESCO in your efforts to champion peace, justice, education, lifelong learning, and volunteerism in the country and in the world. We hope that this assembly will empower the Filipino youth to proactively work with us, and with the other sectors of our society, in bringing progress and development in our communities—one town at a time.

Good luck to all the participants, and may you have a memorable experience.

Mabuhay kayong lahat!

LENI ROBREDO
