Tagaytay City Science NHS, recommended for ISO 9001:2015 certification

With 0 nonconformity, Tagaytay City Science National High School became the first public secondary school in CALABARZON to get immediately recommended for ISO 9001:2015 certification, December 13.

Headed by Mr. Magdaleno V. Lubigan, TCSNHS started establishing its QMS in September 2018 and was recommended by TQCS International for the certifying audit a week ago, Dec. 6, with seven (7) observations.

"It is your dedication, your hardwork, that brought us here. This is not the end; this is the journey to give the very best to our clientele. You proved your commitment to our number one clientele, ang batang Sayanista," Mr. Lubigan said upon the announcement for the school's immediate certification.

"It started as a challenge, it ended as a commitment, a devotion. You have started a spark that must be emulated. You have proven that government service is excellent service," OIC-Assistant Schools

Division Superintendent Ivan Brian Inductivo said.

TCSNHS' ISO journey was guided by Engr. Margel Jajurie, Macro Vision Consultancy

president, which has also recently provided the retooling workshops for the Division Office's internal quality auditors and document custodians. [P]

SDO Cavite internal quality auditors, document custodians, undergo retooling

Consistent to its pursuit to sustain, empower, and innovate for quality service delivery, DepEd Cavite subjected its internal quality auditors (IQAs) and document custodians (DCs) in a series of retooling training workshops.

Fifteen (15) unit document custodians (UDC), headed by Ms. Leonila Custodio, Division librarian, were updated on techniques in establishing and maintaining a document control system, December 3-4.

Mr. Michael Manaloto of Macro Vision Consultancy (MVC) gave a comprehensive review on the Department and the Standards' records management provisions and presented an online document filing system which the UDCs operated during one of the workshops.

On the other hand, Ms. Margel A. Jajurie, MVC president, refreshed the participants' knowledge on the types of documents and how each shall be managed more efficiently.

Meanwhile, DepEd Cavite's IQAs became 46-strong as 27 new auditors, along with 19 existing auditors, passed MVC's certifying/ refresher exam during the potential IQAs' training, retooling of existing IQAs, and root cause analysis training-workshop last November 12-14.

By 2019, SDS Repia aims to have eighty percent (80%) of the Division personnel's population undergo in-depth training on internal quality auditing to boost the team's accountability and commitment in upholding the QMS. [P]

DepEd Cavite pumps up CGP implementation through implementation review, career fair

DepEd Cavite, through the Division Youth Formation Coordinators, pumped up its implementation of the Career Guidance Program (CGP) through the conduct of a walk through and implementation review for senior high school career advocates and a career fair for selected grade 10 and 12 students.

Yehlen Zaragosa, Leila Ferolino, Rico Caganda, Joselito Quintana, Nicanor Sardido, Jeneth Salvador, Melanie Dubiao, Ryan Cutamora, Mark Profeta, and Roselia Cobre provided a comprehensive walkthrough of the first and eighth modules (per grade level) and addressed the participants' queries and concerns.

Participants' concerns

TESDA, CHED, DOLE and other relevant organizations for possible policy amendments to better cater the four curriculum exits education, employment, entrepreneurship, and middle level skills development.

Meanwhile, through the leadership of selected school heads and their respective program management team, a Division Career Fair was held to extend guidance to 1200 grade 10 and 800 grade 12 students in making informed career and life choices last December 6-7.

Simultaneously, the student participants convened in the respective venues to learn from the career talks and testimonials of invited guests such as former grade 10 and senior high school students, teachers specializing in different tracks and strands, and representatives from higher education institutions and TESDA.

Selected school heads and the Division RGCs also imparted their knowledge and expertise regarding the voucher program and career development, respectively.

Moreover, a career market provided not only additional information but entertainment to the participants as invited schools offered freebies while educating the youth on the available opportunities that await them.

Following this, the Division YFCs plan on conducting a training on career counselling for career advocates and potential peer counsellors to extend the implementation and impact of the CGP to other stakeholders such as but not limited to student leaders and parents. A tracer study is also in progress to evaluate the effectiveness of the CGP program. [P]

Ms. Elaine Malones of Cavite Science National High School discusses the STEM track during the career talk at the west cluster Career Fair.

Serving as influencers of students' career paths, grade 11 and 12 teacher advisers and career advocates gathered to share their best practices in the implementation of the CGP modules last November 28-29.

Prior to this, Mr. Lou-Junel Velasco, project development officer, Ms. Rio Gan, registered guidance counsellor (RGC), and CGP trainers Cynthia Poblete, were documented and consolidated to solicit the resolution of the higher office, such as the possibility of the modules to be conducted as early as the opening of classes and modifying the contents of the modules to complement fields where students are excelling.

The participants also suggested coordinating with Civil Service Commission,

Along with 9 other regional trainers and career advocates, Mr. Ryan Cutamora and Mr. Joselito Quintana facilitate the open forum during the CGP walkthrough and implementation review.

DepEd Cavite youth, teacher advisers:

'Cyber security is our responsibility'

298 DepEd Cavite students and teacher advisers joined the Provincial Government of Cavite's awareness campaign on cyber security among the youth and other stakeholders, November 22.

Dubbed as "Cyber security is my responsibility: Orientation on Anti-Child Pornography Act and Tips on Safer Internet Use among Youth and Stakeholders," the four-hour program was facilitated by the Provincial Social Welfare and Development Office through the Provincial Council for the Protection of Children and in partnership with the Inter-Agency Council against Trafficking (IACAT) IV A, and DepEd Cavite.

Ms. Amanda Lee Centeno, IACAT-IVA's secretary, served as resource speaker for the event. Through film showing, she presented to the participants the nuances and dynamics of child pornography.

OIC-ASDS Elias Alicaya Jr. shares practical tips on being a "smart and responsible" Internet user to the student and teacher participants.

An elementary student participant seeks for Ms. Amanda Lee Centeno's advice regarding some privacy issues which one could encounter relevant to the use of piso (public) net.

Consequently, she discussed the salient features of the Anti-Child Pornography Act of 2009 and its relation to the UN Convention on the Rights of Child.

She reviewed the basic rights of a child which were categorized as survival, developmental, protection, and participation rights. Giving much emphasis on the third category, Ms. Centeno enumerated practical tips to protect and keep themselves safe online.

As she solicited the participants' commitment to the campaign #StopChildPornPh, she also shared the available reporting mechanisms which any person with access to technologies such as cellphones or computers may use to help victims of cybercrimes.

Earlier on, Mr. Elias

Alicaya Jr., OIC-Assistant Schools Division Superintendent cited role modelling, assessment, thinking, and evaluation (RATE) of online contents as key pointers which the participants shall consider in the course of practicing their responsibility as student leaders and advisers.

On its fifth leg, the orientation has also seen the soft launch of the DepEd Central Office's tie-up project with Stairway Foundation and IMMAP, #BeCyberSafe.

Public elementary and secondary schools are enjoined to support campaign on the safe use of the Internet and media literacy at large through rolling out the concluded orientation.

Naz, del Rosario win in nat'l story book writing competition

DepEd Cavite's Charito Naz and Jhucel del Rosario won in the Bureau of Learning Resources' second national story book writing competition with their title "Ayaw ko sa Kaklase ko."

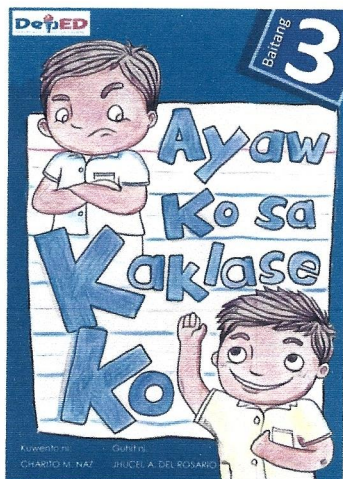

Written by Naz and illustrated by del Rosario of San Gabriel III Elementary School, the book, intended for grade 3 pupils, tells the story of an underprivileged child who used to be misunderstood and disliked by the protagonist.

Naz and del Rosario were formally awarded on December 10, along with Schools Division Superintendent Cherrylou D. Repia and the Division's Education Program Supervisor for Learning Resource Management and Development System (LRMDS), Mr. Noel S. Ortega.

In her speech during the awarding ceremonies, Naz also extended her gratitude for the support and assistance of Ms. Leonila Custodio and Ms. Julie Anne Vertudes, Division librarian and project development officer for LRMDS, respectively.

SDS Repia also expresses her personal commendation to the winning teachers for "guiding the children in weaving dreams through happy stories." [P]
