Who are qualified to donate blood?

- You must be 16-60 years old. (16-17 years old may donate provided with parent/guardian consent)
- You must have at least 50 kilograms or 110 pounds.
- Generally in good health condition. The final medical assessment will depend on the physician on duty.

Preparations before donating blood

- Have enough rest and sleep.
- No alcohol intake 24 hours prior to blood donation.
- Have something to eat prior to blood donation, avoid fatty foods.
- Drink plenty of fluid like water or juice.

Steps in donating blood

- Step 1: Have your weight taken.
- Step 2: Register honestly and completely the donor registration form.
- Step 3: Have your blood type and hemoglobin checked.
- Step 4: A physician will examine and determine an individual's eligibility to give blood.
- Step 5: Actual donation. It will usually take about 10 minutes or less.

Benefits of donating blood

- Blood donation stimulates production of new cell, similar to the principles of "change oil mechanism"
- Personal health check.
- You will know your blood type and hemoglobin.
